It shall be the responsibility of the President to insure that student evaluation, progress, and grading systems are established which are consistent with commonly accepted theory and methodology. Such systems shall be communicated to all students.